THEIR DOWNFALL.

Workhouse Prisoners Interviewed—They Tell What Caused Them to Crime.

A man is a "character." In jail is an interesting character. He usually reveals his character in the workhouse. He is an innocent man. Sometimes he will philosophize and tell what led to his downfall. To get such a "character," interesting to all classes, one of our reporters visited the workhouse and had a talk with some of the men. The results of the interview is as follows:

John Francis, the man who assaulted Marshal Becherer last winter, is doing his third term in the workhouse. He was first sentenced when he was fourteen years old for stealing a horse. He is now fourteen years old for stealing a horse. He is now fourteen years old for stealing a horse. He is now fourteen years old for stealing a horse.

ACQUAINTANCES.

The latest rumor in regard to hairdressing is that the waterfowl or chicken is about to return and rule the heads of womanhood the monstrosities they were a generation ago. Even the accompanying net is threatened. The only comfort is that this is a "go as you please" era, and an even any and every fashion so ugly and so revolting that it will be a relief to the public to see the demure paring to take its place. There is no style so charming for a low, broad forehead as loose, softly brushed pompadour. The hair clearly defined roll is beautiful and the hair can easily be made to stand up with a pretty, puffy effect by waving it on crimping pins or with the waving irons with half a dozen prongs which come for the purpose.

Some people have money and use it for themselves only. The world at large is none the better for them having it. Mrs. George D. Harter is not one of this class. She has been fortunate in the possession of money and she has also been fortunate in the betterment of those about her. Take for instance Aultman Hospital. What a magnificent monument to her love of humanity and love for suffering mankind. A hospital is one of the grandest institutions a city can possess and when Mrs. Harter gave her time, influence and money to this worthy cause she engraved on the hearts of the people of Canton an epitaph more enduring than any that marble may contain. Mrs. Harter is a woman who makes as little money as she can and she has a display of her charities as the best of other things; display is not part of her make-up. She is simply able to make what the world regards as a show, but she prefers the other course and goes along in an even and quiet way, doing good to her fellowmen and fellowwomen. Besides her gift to Aultman Hospital Mrs. Harter has remembered Wittenburg College in a most substantial and worthy manner. As a memorial to her husband she gave the sum of $25,000 to the college, the proceeds of which established and maintain the George Harter Professorship of Practical Theology.

Speaking of Mrs. Harter and of Aultman Hospital is a very fitting and proper mention to the name of Mrs. Aultman. Her husband, who was a very successful man, named Mrs. Aultman is one of our very best known women. She is not as active in affairs as she was a few years ago, but her gift to the founding of the hospital will forever keep her name green in the hearts of our people.

Onions are wholesome as well as savory. Stuffed onions no longer proscribes them. Stuffed onions, on the contrary, are appearing as entrees at informal dinners. Slice the ends from the medium sized Spanish onions, and peel carefully. Take out the centers with a vegetable scoop or spoon. Cover with hot salted water, and simmer for 10 minutes. Be very careful not to boil, as the onion must keep its shape. Remove from the sauce pan and turn upside down in a cloth to drain. Fill with the forcemeat mixture, the bottom of a pan with small pieces of butter, one tablespoon full of chopped parsley and one stalk of celery chopped fine. Lay the onions on top and pour over them one cup of cream and white stock. Bake in a hot dish, strain the gravy over them and serve. Another palatable way of cooking large Spanish onions is to cut a small slice from the top and bottom of each onion and peel. Cover with fresh boiling water, and simmer twenty minutes; drain; again cover with boiling water, add one teaspoonful of salt, and simmer until the onions are sufficiently tender to be pierced with a straw—this will take about an hour. Cover with melted butter, onion, cream and serve with melted butter sauce. Cream, Bechamel or Hollandaise sauce.

Impossible to get sleeves too big down to the elbow, or too small below it. Not so with the "pneumatic sleeve" of the tummy, which is a question more serious than ever how to avoid crushing one's changes, unless there is a carriage for every change of hose. Anything so crowded as a street car at crowded hours means agony of soul. What martyrs women are! Turn we for consolation sweet to beige crepon, white spotted, cunningly concocted, and the water skirt. The skirt is full of folds, the time is gathered into a lump of gurgling over the silk. The sleeves are big and balloony. The bodice has a draped front of Nile chiffon. The epaulettes are of guipure, the collar of guipure, edged with Valenciennes lace. The hat for this costume should be white chip, with ostrich feathers, and a trimming of beige lace about the crown.

NOTICE.

I was calling on one of my friends the other day and she was lamenting because her garments did not wear well, and because she was unable to dress them. I had actually her better dressed neighbor. I have heard this same story from many ladies and they do not enjoy being told that the fault is very often their own, and that the difficulty can, in nine cases out of ten, be removed by a little care and attention to rents, spots, etc., and a willingness to do for themselves what they would call upon a maid to do for them were they fortunate to possess that expensive aid to peace and comfort.

JOHN BALDORF SKIPS.

He Could Not Wait Two Weeks So He Left the Workhouse Sunday.

John Baldorf, a prisoner of the county workhouse, escaped yesterday. He was a trusty about the place and a little before noon was let out to water the garden. At dinner time when the guard went to bring him in no John could be found. He was sent up from Canton for assault and battery and had but eighteen days more to serve.

In order to get the most work and best results from the men at the workhouse it has been necessary to allow some of the more reliable ones a little freedom and trust to their honor not to take French leave. Baldorf had been working about the place considerable doing jobs that it is necessary to have done but yet not of a character to warrant sending a guard to oversee. He did all right until Sunday. Then he gazed out over the fields and saw the dandelions blooming and listened to the rushing water in the nearby Nimishillen, their came within his breast a longing for liberty, and he could not wait two weeks, so he stood not upon the order of his going but went at once.

Superintendent Pontius has hopes of securing his return and efforts are being made in that direction. With the place unenclosed as it is, and the large number of prisoners to look after it makes it a very difficult matter to keep one from taking leg occasionally. The work must all be done outside and although extra vigilance is maintained yet it is impossible to keep every body at work and not run some risk with the men, who are now here. A fence about the workhouse would make it so that none would escape.

HE MADE THE MOLDS.

Philip Stahler Arrested for Complicity in the C. & N. S. Scheme—Taken to Cleveland.

Deputy United States Marshal Hilands came down from Cleveland Saturday afternoon and when he returned at 7:30 Monday morning Philip Stahler, of No. 80 East Eighth street, went along on a ticket purchased by Uncle Sam. Ever since Kashner's arrest it has been intimated that Stahler was the party who made the molds and acted as general machinist for the combination. The case was quietly investigated by Officers Batin and Weland and Friday evening they telegraphed for Hilands to come down. The arrest was made Sunday evening between eight and nine o'clock by deputy Marshals Hilands and Officer Batin.

At the time of his arrest Stahler said he had made the molds and dies and had put in the line shafting in the shed and fixed the machine in running order. He claims he did not know what he was doing. Kashner claimed to be making a beer pump and he thought he was working on that. Stahler is an employee of the Wrights from Bridge Company and a man about 30 years old. He is now making Kashner's saloon his looking place for the past year or two. The work he did for Kashner was all done at night, he lost no time at the bridge shop. He will be given a hearing in Cleveland.

In a conversation with Deputy Marshal Hilands he stated that Michener is not inclined to talk any. Kashner does the talking but persists in blaming Michener and implicates no one else.

When Michener was informed by Mr. Hilands of the find made in his safe Michener seemed to be as much surprised as if he had never heard of the matter before. He seemed perfectly astounded that any such outfit had been found in his office. It is supposed that he had an arrangement with some parties in Canton to remove the contents of the safe before the officers searched it, but when the Canton parties went to see about removing the outfit it was of such a size that it could not be gotten out without exciting suspicion and implicating themselves. This no doubt accounts for Michener's surprise and the readiness with which he gave Marshal Huskell the combination for the purpose of searching the safe.

BOYS DISAPPEAR.

Charles Young and Willie Sterling, two young boys between the ages of 14 and 16, living in the northeast part of town have been missing from their homes since Saturday evening. It is not known where or in what direction they went, but it is supposed they went west to hunt their fortunes.

PEOPLE'S CHURCH OPENED.

The People's church held its first meeting in this city last night in the room at the corner of Eighth and Walnut streets. A good sized crowd was in attendance. Addresses were made by Rev. S. C. Condo, Dr. F. E. Young, Rabbi Cline and Prof. Seymore. Meetings will be held every Sunday night hereafter.

REV. FIELD'S SIXTH ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. J. N. Field preached his sixth anniversary sermon yesterday morning as pastor of the Baptist church of this city. He took for his text Acts 20:26, 27, "Wherefore I testify unto you this day that I am free from the blood of all men who have not chosen to believe in Christ." At the close of the sermon the pastor gave an encouraging review of the years' work. He then gave the following statistical report for the past six years: Members added to the church, 304; money raised for all purposes, $39,723.13. The pastor has preached 694 sermons, lectured 81 times, made about 4,880 calls, conducted 99 funerals and solemnized 135 marriages. When the pastorate began the church had 371 members. Then the church had no missions; now it has had 10. The enrollment of all the schools is over 900. During all these years there has not been a particle of friction, but perfect harmony, peace and prosperity.

DEATH RECORD.

James Miller, an aged resident of Massillon, died of paralysis Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Slodden. Mr. Miller was born in Rochester, Kent county, England, in 1814. When nineteen years of age he came to America and located in Buffalo. Fifty-nine years ago he came to Massillon. As a contractor and builder he engineered the construction of the greater portion of the business center of that city.

REPORTORIAL GRIEF.

Wm. Gruber, a coal miner living in West Massillon, was stopped by four tramps, early on Thursday morning and was relieved of his dinner pail and his pockets were rifled. He was on his way to the mine in which he is employed and was walking up the W. & L. E. track.

RECOVERY IS NOW THE MOST RAPID AND LASTING.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes Vigorous Nerves.

It Purifies the Blood as Nothing Else Can Possibly Do.

As a spring remedy, Paine's celery compound stands easily first in the careful judgment of the physicians of this country.

THE CLOSE OF NATURE'S YEARLY REVIVAL SEASON.

The remarkable discovery of Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. D., of Dartmouth college is in fact so certainly first in the estimation of thinking men and women in every calling throughout the United States today that there can fairly be said to be no second.

For strengthening the sick, restoring the spent energies of those who have become nervously exhausted, for purifying the blood and making people well, Paine's celery compound has never yet been approached by any sanatorium, tonic or medicine. It is as superior to them all as strength is superior to weakness. The remarkable results from the use of this great remedy are today known at first hand in every city and village in America.

The people are today thoroughly satisfied by personal experience that Paine's celery compound makes people well.

When the nerves have been properly fed and neutralized, nervousness, inability to sleep, rheumatism and such evidences of debility have vanished. Paine's celery compound has created a new vitality, restored lost strength and given courage, new blood, and a strong, healthy will to live and get well. Try it.

MADE FOR SHERIFF.

Atas B. Masse, of Bothem township, was a caller at this office this morning. In the course of a conversation Mr. Masse said it was his intention to be a candidate before the democratic primaries for sheriff of Stark County.

WAIVED EXAMINATION.

In Spire Barr's court this morning Isaac R. Sherwood waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury under bond of $250. This is the case brought by J. J. Clark against Gen. Sherwood for criminal libel.

AFTER THE THIEF.

The horse and buggy stolen from Sylvanus Miller of Alliance, has been located at Painesburg, Va. The buggy and harness have been captured, but it is said the horse has been traded for another, and it has not yet been found. Investigation shows that the thief, when in Alliance, had a bicycle, had stolen from Cleveland which he was trying to sell.

DROPPED DEAD.

Mr. Zuparker, residing six miles south of Alliance and east of Freeburg, dropped dead very suddenly Wednesday afternoon. Heart failure is supposed to be the cause. He was a hale, hearty man 40 years of age, and had not been sick. He leaves a wife and four children. He has a number of relatives living near Garfield. The funeral took place this morning.

THE FIRST SHOOT.

The Canton Gun Club opened their range at Meyers lake Friday with the first of the weekly shoots this season. Four members of the club were present. The most was at 25 blue rocks, 15 yards rise for 12 gauge and 10 gauge, and 10 gauge, 10 gauge, 10 gauge. The scores were as follows: J. J. Clark, 16; Paul Gschwind, 13; Clarence Alexander, 13; C. F. Fredericks, 15.

A HORSESTOLEN.

The authorities of Massillon are searching for a colored man answering to the name of Thomas Wilder, who is wanted for horse stealing. Wilder hired a valuable horse from Livestockman Charles Young Saturday night and has not returned. Wilder has been sent up several times for crookedness. A liberal reward has been offered for his capture and return of the property.

FAVORED EMPLOYED LABORERS.

Nine white laborers employed at the Massillon Hospital for the Insane, now under construction, have struck for an advance from $1.35 to $1.50 per day. The contractors have refused to concede anything and new men have been hired in place of the strikers. The old hands were satisfied to work for $1.35 per day until they learned that the negro laborers who came with the contractors were being paid $1.50.

JOE NOCK ROBBED.

Saturday night a window in the rear of Joe Nock's second hand store on East Fifth street was broken out and the store robbed. The thief was evidently a tramp. He left an old coat, a pair of pants and an old pair of shoes in the store, and took in exchange two suits of clothes, a pair of new shoes, a valise, a straw hat, five revolvers, two watches and a pair of fine open shoes. Joe Nock says he remembers seeing a man wearing the described clothes in his store Saturday evening. He describes him as being a heavy man, with dark complexion and about five feet six or eight inches tall. In the pockets of the old coat which was left were two balls, such as boys use, and had evidently been stolen from some school boys' game while he was in the store. Word has been sent to Massillon and Alliance and an effort will be made to locate the thief.
